December 1962

Masthead Volume 65, Issue 1

Follow this and additional works at: https://researchrepository.wvu.edu/wvlr

Recommended Citation

Available at: https://researchrepository.wvu.edu/wvlr/vol65/iss1/1

This Prefatory Matter is brought to you for free and open access by the WVU College of Law at The Research Repository @ WVU. It has been accepted for inclusion in West Virginia Law Review by an authorized editor of The Research Repository @ WVU. For more information, please contact ian.harmon@mail.wvu.edu.
The Uniform Commercial Code—Secured Transactions and the West Virginia Landlord’s Lien

One of the goals of the Uniform Commercial Code has been the affording of some element of order and stability to the increasingly complex field of secured financing transactions. For, as the supplying of credit has become accepted as one of the keys to prosperity, safeguards which help to insure that credit will be self-liquidating become more important if the extension of credit is to continue in a sound basis. Article 9 of the Uniform Commercial Code has provided those safeguards through an orderly arrangement and simplification of the law of secured transactions.

1 Uniform Commercial Code § 9-101, Comment.