The President's Page

All West Virginia lawyers are urged to attend the annual meeting of the Bar Association at the Greenbrier on August 30th and August 31st. While the planned program for this Centennial Year of West Virginia will be a varied one, we feel that it will be most interesting and will be of definite benefit to those who attend. Among other things, the benefits of H. R. 10 (the "much discussed" Keogh Bill) will be clearly and capably explained by one of our own lawyers. Most of us have heard about this, but have not had the time to determine just how it might apply to our own particular situation. You can get the answer by attending the meeting.

The special Policy Survey Committee has reported to the Executive Council. This fine report will be presented to the meeting for discussion and action.

Without fearing that it may detract from our annual meeting, I want to call your attention to the Great Lakes Regional Meeting of the American Bar Association to be held at Cleveland, Ohio, on November 14, 15 and 16. This meeting will be close enough geographically to stimulate a large attendance from this State. The preliminary program is extraordinary. If you can arrange it, put this on your calendar. You will receive further notice of this meeting from the Association.
