law building a suitable bronze memorial tablet which many think should be placed there in memory of the West Virginia lawyers who served in the World War. It is proposed that any funds remaining after the portraits and memorial have been paid for shall be devoted to the purchase of engravings and etchings of distinguished judges and lawyers to be hung in the new building. The inspiration to the students and the legal atmosphere given to the building by such portraits and memorials should add much to the dignity and usefulness of the new structure.

Attendance at College of Law in 1919-20.—The catalog of the College of Law which has been recently issued shows that the attendance during the past year numbered 66, of whom 29 were first-year students, 16 were second-year students, 17 were third-year students, and 4 were special students. The number of first-year students and the total number registered for the degree of Bachelor of Laws are slightly larger than in any previous year. Twenty-three either had received already the Bachelor of Arts degree from West Virginia University or from some other college or were combination six-year students who will receive both
