The Executive Council of the West Virginia Bar Association, at a meeting in Washington, D. C. on April 30, held during the session of the American Law Institute, decided to assign to several of the local Bar Associations of the state, portions of the Restatement of the Law, for study, discussion, criticism, and suggestion. Those in charge of the American Law Institute are making every effort to present the text of the Restatement, before it takes final form, to the Bench, the Bar, and the Teaching Profession. Every criticism or suggestion is given consideration by the authors, and every member of the profession should take advantage of every opportunity to become familiar with the work and to assist the authors in making it accurate and complete. It is the hope of the Executive Council of the Association that the local Associations will devote much of their attention, during the coming year, to this study. Those who are not familiar with the work of the Institute will find that work discussed in Vol. 29, WEST VA. LAW QUARTERLY at page 129, and in the address of William Draper Lewis, Director of the Institute, which appears in the Reports of the West Virginia Bar Association for 1925.

Wanted: West Virginia Documents or State Departmental Reports, for years 1863 to 1890.
