A recent ruling of the Supreme Court, from the bench, holds that when the bill or declaration is demurred to and the demurrer sustained and the case dismissed by the lower court, the question of the sufficiency of the pleading cannot be certified to the Supreme Court pursuant to § 1, c. 135, as amended by c. 69, Acts of 1915. Being final, such judgment or order can be reviewed only upon appeal or writ of error in the usual way, but may, if it involves public questions, be disposed of on motion to affirm or reverse.
