THE JAMES F. BROWN PRIZE.—The prize offered by the late James F. Brown of the Charleston Bar, namely, the annual income of $5,000, was awarded for the year 1921-22 to Mr. William Francis Keefer, a member of the 1922 graduating class of the College of Law. The donor of the gift provided that the prize should be awarded for the best essay submitted each year on some subject concerning the privileges and immunities of citizens guaranteed by the federal and state constitutions. The subject assigned for the competition this year was: "Has a Person the Constitutional Right to Abstain from Work?" Students in the senior class in
